EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. Introduction

Shaw Corporation is instructed by Eadon Limited (Eadon), the freehold owners and developers of the site, to advise on the economic viability of the development proposals at Elephant Road and 50 New Kent Road in terms of the appropriate affordable housing package.

Planning consent was initially granted in December 2006 for a mixed scheme based principally upon residential, B1 office and hotel uses. Due to problems with the viability of an hotel and speculative B1 offices at this location, an amended application was submitted based upon residential and student accommodation. This amended scheme was approved by Committee in December 2007 although only formally consented on completion of the Section 106 Agreement in July 2008.

Both of these previous applications were supported by full Toolkit appraisals which demonstrated that the scheme could not support any affordable housing mainly due to the high level of infrastructure and other costs. However, as a political gesture Eadon agreed to make a financial contribution to LB of Southwark in lieu of providing additional on-site affordable housing. This payment was to be used towards advancing the Council's Early Housing sites.

Unfortunately, the combined effect of the market downturn and escalating construction and associated costs has meant that the previously consented scheme is no longer viable and so Eadon has been obliged to amend the scheme. The changes are set out in the appended Architect's draft Pre-Application Submission.

This attached Toolkit and supporting information assesses the ability of the revised development to support affordable housing using the Greater London Authority's (GLA) Development Control Toolkit model, which was developed for such purposes.

2. The Proposed Development

The project represents a mixed use development comprising residential, student accommodation, retail and leisure, on a 0.49 acre site within the Elephant & Castle designated Regeneration Area. The general character of the proposal is unchanged from the previously consented applications, but approval is to be sought for adjustments to the number of residential units in the West building, an additional floor of residential accommodation in the South building as well as for limited alterations to the commercial elements of the development.

3. Affordable Housing Element

An updated Toolkit appraisal has been run on the revised scheme. Once again, notwithstanding the slightly larger scheme content, this appraisal shows a significant negative value which means that if it is to proceed the development cannot support any affordable housing at all. As indicated above, this is principally because the scheme has been affected by a combination of the residential market downturn, the tightening of credit terms and a substantial increase in the construction and other costs of the scheme. The key drivers of the construction costs increase are the cladding, basement costs and the infrastructure and public realm requirements.

The Toolkit appraisal – attached hereto at Section 3 – produces a residual value of Minus £17 million after allowing for land acquisition costs.

4. Conclusion

Based on this assessment of viability, it is clear that the development cannot bear any affordable housing.

Dear Richard,

Oakmayne Plaza, Elephant Road, Elephant and Castle, London, SE1

I write, as promised, in order to provide our view in relation to the potential sales prices for the above-mentioned development.

We believe that the average £/sqft for the West Tower of £543/sqft and for the South Tower of £491/sqft are appropriate due to the imposing nature of the scheme as a whole, the optimum sizes of the individual apartments as well as the outstanding internal and external specification used throughout.

Please note that these figures are for marketing purposes only and that these cannot be relied upon for any funding or lending purposes.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if I can be of any further assistance to you.

With kind regards,

ANDREW PALMER
